The iPod

Publicado por: GiovanniE25
Publicado el : 7-2-2013 22:14:45

The iPod

This story begins n happened about 4 and a half years ago,
When I decided to leave orlando so to houston i could go.
It was hard finding a stedy job at the temporary agency,
Paying all my bills in time was always the emergency.
 I rented an apartment in the ghetto where I lived alone
Thieves broke into my car one night n in the morning , the stereo was gone.
After overcoming adversities I
Finally got a real job at the Marriott, which is a fancy hotel.
I was glad to be out of that construction site hell.
So one day I was helping the housekeepers fix the rooms
Cleaning the leftovers of the grooms
In one bed I found an iPod
U should steal?.... it I thought
But my fear n respect for The Lord stop me to do it
It was wrong n I knew it
So I didn't n returned it to the front desk
And ended the scene of my burlesque
I remember praying and asking The Lord for more hours so I could make more money
I woke up happy everyday like it it was sunny
Working hard so one day I could buy me an iPod like the one I found
And enjoy endless music n the sound
I learned to b content under any circumstance
N decided not to steal n show him reverence
I honored his statutes n kept his word
Regardless of my condition he's still my lord
Then Christmas came along n got together with the family
I wish that moment was eternity we spend awesome time n exchange gifts with eachother
Little did I know the surprise from my brother
Only God knew about me wanting an iPod I don't remember telling anyone else
When everyone lets u down God never fails
So that awesome christmass I got and iPod it cost triple the amount of the one I wanted
I can watch movies listen music my wish was granted
That's why I won't lose the faith
N never be ashamed of proclaiming
God's amazing power may everyone have nice day
Give glory to God (that's what I say !!!! Peace