If you are not sure how to write a Thesis Summary, check out our post to know everything that can help you compose an excellent one.

A thesis summary can be defined as a greatly condensed version of a longer piece of writing that highlights and includes a lot of topics with descriptive content composed in the body. Mostly, it serves as the abstract with an overview of all the major points relevant to the topic of the thesis. The summary of a thesis gives the readers the chance to quickly understand what the content is all about and then enable them to decide whether they want to go for it or not.
